DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because the abstract is too long. The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1, 2, and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

Regarding claim 1, 2 and 10, the claim 1, line 3 and 2, line 5 recite "differential filters having a differential property transfer function", and claim 10, line 3 recites "differential filtering", where the differential filters have two inputs. The specification does not show the input and the complementary input connect to the differential filter and how the differential filters functions in detail. The specification only discloses a real signal or a imaginary signal going to the differential filter, and the specification does not merely suggest or mention about the complementary input. Clarification is required.

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Regarding claim 7, the phrase "The method of claim 8" renders the claim indefinite because a method claim depend on an apparatus claim. The claim 8 is an apparatus claim, further a dependent claim should be followed by an independent claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Sunwoo et al. (US Patent 6,314,129).

Regarding claim 8, Sunwoo et al. teach a timing synchronization detecting unit generating a timing synchronization signal corresponding to a power difference between preceding and succeeding samples of an input that are ahead and behind the input signal (see figure 4), a detection timing deciding unit for deciding detection timing of the input signal according to the timing synchronization discriminating signal from the timing synchronization detecting unit and a data detecting unit for detecting the input signal according to the timing decided by the detection timing deciding unit (figure 4 element 22).

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 3 – 6 are allowable over prior art of record.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The prior art of record failed to teach a timing synchronization detecting apparatus having a timing error detecting unit for receiving and semi-symbol delaying a real number element and an imaginary number element of the input signal, and generating a real number signal by subtracting one-symbol delayed real number element from the real number element of the input signal and an imaginary number signal by subtracting the one-symbol delayed imaginary element from the imaginary number element of the input signal.

Claim 9 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
